SACCHARIN BAN OPENS THE PATH TO WEALTH...

MOVING? Please use form inside paper and give full information. Mailing list is run on Friday for following week.

We were settin' round enjoyin' an informal meetin' of the Sons & Daughters of the Will Arise Spit & Whistle Club, and the discussion got around to FDA Commissioner Donald Kennedy's plans to forbid folks the right to pump their sweet tooth and lay off sugar by the use of saccharin in desserts, drinks, etc., and the consensus seemed to be that Dr. Kennedy was in the same category as the preacher when he started belaborin' his congregation for all kinds of sins, real or imaginary. Somebody remarked that he had done quit preachin' and gone to muddin'.

Since the ill-fated effort to take booze away from us turned out like it did not, even the FDA or the Surgeon General have nerve enough to try and take the enjoyment of tobacco away from us, it does seem logical that simply printin' a warnin' on the package or bottle or can should be sufficient to fulfill the FDA's responsibility. However, they say no chance.

There has been considerable speculation as to just which one of President Kennedy's sons will be the next President. (CONT. ON PAGE 10)

Kansas City—Emphasizing their support for the beef industry, the National Corn Growers Association, Boone, Ia., has endorsed the July Beef Referendum. Wheat Storage to Present Big Problem
Waco—With wheat harvest just getting under way, the president of the Texas Farm Bureau said a crisis may be developing over storing this year's crop.

"Our problem is we've already got almost a year's crop in storage and we're expecting good to bumper crops in the winter wheat area from Texas to Nebraska," said Carroll Chaloupka, Dalhart grain and cattle producer. "What we fear," he said, "is that a shortage of storage will depress our prices even more. He said that wheat prices have been falling steadily since last year, and that wheat is now selling for about 40 percent below what it was last June.

"If the situation reaches crisis proportions, we will ask that the U.S. Department of Agriculture approve loans on wheat stored in temporary facilities," Chaloupka said. "We believe this may be necessary to keep the bottom from falling completely out of the wheat (CONT. ON PAGE 31)

Critics of Livestock Organizations Told It's Time to Put Up or Shutup, as Beef Program Is Set to Get Underway

Some of the critics of livestock organizations and the proposed Beef Research and Information Program were challenged recently to "put up or shut up."

The challenge was put forth by Richard A. McDougal — first vice president of the American National Cattlemen's Assn. and president-designate of the new National Cattlemen's Assn. — in a talk at the Montana Stockgrowers Assn. convention.

"Some cattlemen keep talking of evil forces in the market place, and they criticize national organizations for not doing more about the problems," McDougal said. "However, they do not really define the problems, and they offer no responsible and effective ways to provide answers.

"Some of the same 'anti' groups criticizing our existing state and national organizations also are opposing passage of the Beef Referendum. Frankly, I am getting sick and tired of people who keep proclaiming problems, but do not support the organizations we have to help identify and solve problems."

McDougal noted that existing livestock organizations simply do not have enough financial support to conduct the kinds of research and investigation that some persons keep calling for. However, he said, approval of the Beef Research and Information Program means funds for in-depth studies of all aspects of beef marketing and distribution.

"You can't solve a problem when it is just something speculative and nebulous," he observed. "First you have to determine whether there is a problem and then identify what it is. And it takes time and resources to do that.

"For example, there is widespread confusion about the role and impact of boxed beef. There are accusations that (CONT. ON PAGE 2)

Lack of Scientific Support for FDA Proposal to Ban Antibiotics in Feed Cited, Move Could Wreck Industry

BY TED GOULD
The current dispute between FDA Commissioner Donald Kennedy and the livestock and poultry feeding industry and manufacturers of food and drugs reached new peaks last week at Congressional hearings being held by the House Subcommittee for Dairy and Poultry, chaired by Rep. Charles Rose of North Carolina. Last week Rose appeared convinced the industry had convinced him that Kennedy's position on ordering a ban on subtherapeutic use of antibiotics in livestock and poultry feed was based on his own theoretical suppositions rather than on scientific evidence.

Testimony presented to the subcommittee indicated that to ban the use of antibiotics in livestock and poultry feed would hike the consumers' meat bill by $8 to $6 billion and FDA's own figures for the drug manufacturers say the ban will add 15¢ per pound to cost of meat and poultry.

A much more serious aspect of the problem has received little notice by the news media and is apparently one which Dr. Kennedy and the FDA have not been inclined to explore. This aspect could be even more costly to consumers and could bring havoc to the meat and poultry production business as it has been developed, since without antibiotics in feed to reduce the confinement of livestock and poultry in feedlot and poultry houses would make control of disease difficult, if not impossible.

The secret of the success of cattle and swine and sheep feeding in today's efficient feed pens is the ability to control disease. This is even more of a threat to broiler and turkey feeding with the many health problems attendant in those areas. To ban effective disease control could destroy the meat production industry as it operates today.

John C. Datt, a Farm Bureau spokesman pinpointed this problem telling the committee there is already excessive regulation and public criticism of farmers' use of pesticides, antibiotics and other chemicals. "The proper use of antibiotics, feed additives and hormones is essential to efficient, modern day production of high quality animal products. We favor the continued use of such materials in livestock and poultry production unless such use is found by competent research to be detrimental to the health of the consuming public."

The supposition by Dr. Kennedy that continued subtherapeutic use of antibiotics might lead to antibiotic-resistant strains was refuted by Dr. Thomas H. Jukes, a pioneer in the use of these drugs in feeds. Dr. Jukes stated this has not happened in the more than 25 years the practice has been common, and that if there were the possibility of resistant strains developing it would have happened years ago and the effectiveness of subtherapeutic use of antibiotics in feed would have long since blunted the effectiveness of the practice. It was pointed out that if Kennedy's fears had solid substance, the resistant strains of bacteria would have appeared within two years.

"If you're gunna get on, I'm gettin' off."

It's being used to manipulate the market. Perhaps we do need a thorough analysis.

study of the advantages and disadvantages of this distribution method, but that can be done only through a really professional job of fact-finding and analysis.

"Some people charge that there is illegal profiteering in the meat distribution and merchandising system. They also claim that there may be illegal market dominance by some forces."

"Frankly, I don't know the answers to many of these economic questions and charges, but I do know that more funds are needed if there are to be adequate studies and improvements in the marketing and distribution system."

McDougal also reiterated his view that expanded economic demand research and information dissemination can help modify devastating cattle cycles like that from which the industry is finally beginning to emerge.

"It's easy to sit on the sidelines and speculate and criticize," McDougal continued. "I say it's time for people to support organizations and programs which will (1) develop the basic information needed to identify just what our problems are; (2) join in deciding on objectives and actions needed to solve the problems; and (3) help carry out the programs that are required."

"Right now, we have an opportunity to get many of these things done through the Beef Research and Information Act. Will we give this self-help program a chance? Or will the critics continue to criticize and gripe and let

All cattle sell as guaranteed breeders. Females two years old or older will either have a calf at side or be safe in calf. Dan Wendt, sale chairman, points out that the Santa Gertrudis cow is an excellent mother cow, with outstanding calving ease and milking ability.

If you prefer to dry pick your own birds, you will find that it is much easier to do while they are still young, even though it means taking time from hunting. If you wait until the birds have cooled and stiffened, the skin is much likely to tear.

Charolais' First Breeders Sale In Arkansas June 18

A unique chapter in the history of the Charolais breed will unfold June 17 and 18 as the 1st Breeders' Sale gets underway at Victoria, Ark. Hosted by Wesson Charolais and managed by Buzz Garey, the Breeders Sale will consist of fifty head of the finest Charolais breeding cattle ever assembled under one tent from 22 breeders representing twelve states across the nation. These hand-picked Charolais cattle which will include National Champions are required to have been bred by the consignor and sired by the consignor's own herd sire, therefore making this event a breeder's sale.

Another unique aspect of the Breeders' Sale will be the display of the cattle and stage on the stars. The cattle will be displayed under the spreading oak along the lakeside home in the center of the Wesson plantation on Friday, June 17. After a true fish fry which will include puppies and all the fixings, the evening will light up with Nashville's hottest act on the country circuit, LeRoy VanDyke. Joining in this two hour salute to Charolais will be the nation's most popular singing group, the New Christy Minstrels. Putting the event together and acting as mistress of ceremonies will be the newest top notch standup comedienne to come along in many years, Gwen McEwen.

After what will be a short night, the really big show will get underway Saturday morning, June 18, with the Grand Parade of the Charolais cattle narrated by auctioneer Buzz Garey and Earl Mann, kicker for the world famous champion Oakland Raiders. Charolais breeder since college, Mann spends his off-season carefully planning and engineering his breeding program on his farm in Minnesota with the same stability he plans a kick on the gridiron.

Following the Grand Parade, George Morse will take over the reins at noon and pound his gavel introducing another first for the breed which began the beef cattle revolution — Charolais.

"Never before have I had the opportunity in the sale management business to walk into some of the leading Charolais herds in the country and pick any animal I wanted that would fit our breeding and quality requirements," stated Garey. "The cattle consigned to this first Breeders' Sale will be dedicated to the Ligon family, can only be described as representing the breed's finest pedigree."

homa Charolais Breeders Association has announced an "Association Consignment Sale," formerly the Lincoln Plaza Sale, will be held Saturday, June 4, 1977. # Stuph & Thangs

Carter's official family would be the first to embrace Jimmy enough to get the sack and right now it would seem that Dr. Kennedy and UN Ambassador Andrew Young are in a dead heat for this honor. Kennedy has not only got all the diabetes & fatso types angrier up, but now he plans to eliminate the use of antibiotics in subtherapeutic amounts in animal & poultry feed without an order from veterinarians on the basis that he supposes it might be possible this feedin' of antibiotics might develop some strains of infectious bacteria or germs immune to the effectiveness of antibiotics. Since use of antibiotics as feed additives in subtherapeutic amounts has been going on 37 years, and this has not happened, it puts Kennedy's conclusions into a framework of pure guesswork and his rather lame excuse is that it fits his idea of a "social" goal. Which seems like a poor substitute for scientific fact. The Sons & Daughters got to figgerin' out just what the effect of a ban on saccharin might be, when Dr. Slosh Bear- baum says he figgers it: get rich off it. Slosh, who had considerable experience on both sides of the street in the old bootleg days figgers the same thang will sure work this time. If the FDA leaves saccharin in as a single-ingredient drug available without prescription the bootlegger's problem would be much simpler than it was when a feller had to have a still, mash, fruit jars or crocks & bottles when he was servin' the public with booze or beer. This time the chief ingredient will be much easier come by than alcohol used to be in the Old Days.

Slosh figgers if he developed a crowd of people who like a little entertainment with their drinks the old Speakeasy may come back. However, he figgers this kind of overhead won't be necessary, since he can fix up a simple deal with someone to make the sody pop and leave out the sugar and folks will come by and pick up what they want, ice cream, candy, cookies, etc., will be easy to load up with legal saccharin picked up at the local drug store.

Accordin' to Slosh this thang might grow into quite a big household industry, and you could probably hire folks to make up sweet stuph at home and make considerable side money as cookie & candy makers and insofar as sody pop is concerned there ain't really any good reason why people can't start puttin' out Coke, 7 Up or Dr Pepper without sugar and the person drinkin' it could add his own sweetener just like lots of folks do now in sweetenin' their cawfee or tea.

Slosh says he hopes the sody pop people don't figger this angle out and together with the saccharin makers, because if the saccharin makers started puttin' out saccharin pills in sizes to fit 10 or 12 ounce bottles and bigger ones for the large economy size sugarless bottles, it will sure torpedo any chance he has to get rich as saccharinlegger.

Ever thine, The Edditar. P.S.: Uncle Dunk figgers you ort not be surprised at Andrew Young's ability to mess around in the affairs of other countries, after all he served a three-year hitch with the National Council of Churches, which ort to be tops for trainin' agitators. Dunk says Carter's handlin' of the Korean flap with Gen. Singlaub demonstrates how tough he can get, when the other feller can't hit back. Dunk says the hassle over how to bail out Social Security reminds him of the time President Kennedy asked the farmers to vote for a scheme of Government intervention in the grain business and we asked a grain man whether they were silly enough to stick their heads in the noose. He said, sure they'd vote for it and the reason was that none of 'em did not have somebody, often next of kin, gittin' a Govmint check of one kind or another, a pension, or the like, and they had been told by the USDA grapevine that they better vote "right" or else! The same logic applies today, with about 20% of the population on some kind of Govmint pension, Social Security or other program — Thassall Brothers!

You can lengthen the life of your car board motor's starting cord by treating it with paraffin. vation an 900 Crossbred steer calves and 500 Crossbred heifer calves from the Big Cypress Reservation. The Brighton and Big Cypress steer and heifers will be sold separately. Calves will be delivered in July and August with an approximate delivery weight on steers of 450 lbs. and 400 lbs. on heifers. All calves have been vaccinated with three-way blackleg, malignant edema and dehorned. Information is available from Tommy Mann, cattle manager at Stanlo Johns, assistant, 813/763-5020, P. O. #### Non-Livestock Groups Endorse Referendum

The largest market for corn is livestock. Unfortunately, low cattle prices the past few years... reduce the consumption of corn by cattle. However, (passage) of the Beef Referendum should help cattlemen, which in turn would help our members.

Also supporting the Referendum are the National Grain Sorghum Producer's Association headquartered in Lubbock, Texas; 26 state Farm Bureaus; the American Soybean Association, Hudson, Ia., and 80 state and national beef and dairy associations.

O. J. Barron, Jr., chairman of the Beef Development Taskforce, said the support of the Referendum by such a diverse group of agricultural organizations "shows that it's not just cattle producers who have a stake in this program—it's all of agriculture. A healthy, profitable beef industry is good for all of us."

The Referendum will allow the nation's cattlemen to vote on establishing vastly improved beef research, promotion and consumer education programs. Registration is set for June 6-17, and voting for July 5-15.

Farm Bureau To

The only logical solution to end the rapidly-increasing number of senseless regulations, the arrogant administration, and the inflationary cost of this out-of-control federal agency," Chaloupka said.

The Farm Bureau is seeking to get a number of Congressmen to co-sponsor the Symms Bill as a means of gaining serious consideration of the proposed legislation.

"Citizens and organizations who feel as we do on this issue are urged to join the fight," Chaloupka said.

OSHA has issued a number of regulations directly affecting agriculture. These include rules pertaining to wearing of protective clothing in fields where agricultural chemicals have been applied, farm labor housing standards, livestock safety and farm equipment shielding. Proposed regulations deal with field sanitation and cotton dust standards.

Chaloupka said the main issue is "freedom from unwarranted interference" by the federal government. He said the Fourth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution guarantees the right of citizens against unreasonable searches and seizures.

He claimed that OSHA inspectors enter private premises "without a warrant, without probable cause, and arbitrarily impose fines administratively without recourse to a trial by jury. Basic rights guaranteed by our Constitution are flagrantly violated."

OSHA has issued a number of regulations directly affecting agriculture. These include rules pertaining to wearing of protective clothing in fields where agricultural chemicals have been applied, farm labor housing standards, livestock safety and farm equipment shielding. Proposed regulations deal with field sanitation and cotton dust standards.

Chaloupka said the main issue is "freedom from unwarranted interference" by the federal government. He said the Fourth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution guarantees the right of citizens against unreasonable searches and seizures.

The Farm Bureau is seeking to get a number of Congressmen to co-sponsor the Symms Bill as a means of gaining serious consideration of the proposed legislation.

"Citizens and organizations who feel as we do on this issue are urged to join the fight," Chaloupka said.

All-American Junior Hereford Field Day Plans Complete For July 28-29 Affair At Granite Hills Hereford Ranch

Complete plans for the staging of the 1977 All-American Junior Hereford Field Day at Granite Hills Hereford Ranch, Llano, Texas, have been announced by officials with the American and Texas Junior Hereford Associations. The two day national event is expected to draw several thousand people from throughout the United States.

Activities will commence at 1:30 p.m. Thursday, July 28, with the regular Texas Junior Hereford Association public speaking contest and selection of the 1977-78 Texas Hereford Queen. By mid-afternoon, participants will turn their attention to the commercial feeder calf evaluation program to be headlined by USDA Livestock Marketing Specialist Fred Williams, Jr., Washington, D.C. Williams will utilize several of the Granite Hills commercial calves to explain the proposed changes in feeder calf grading now being studied by the industry. Producers will have an opportunity to provide additional input during this portion of the program as a part of the open discussion being planned.

Also on tap for the first afternoon will be an informal style gathering of the American Hereford Auxiliary, as well as the preliminary rounds of competition in the National Junior Hereford Showmanship contest. Champion Hereford showmen from thirty states are expected to vie for the chance to advance to the showmanship finals. Thursday afternoon's program will also focus on the Granite Hills management and breeding programs with a tour through several of the registered and commercial breeding pastures scheduled for the late afternoon hours. tion sponsored dance will round out the first day of the program.
The second day's activities begin with coffee and donuts for the early arrivals courtesy of the Ralston Purina Company, prior to the 8:30 a.m. program start. The main thrust of the Friday morning program will be the Hereford judging contest featuring five classes including a pen-of-three bulls class and an eight-head feeder calf selection class. Basic Total Performance Records will be provided to the contestants on each class for their use in evaluation. Prior to the contest a session detailing the use of performance records will be staged using three Granite Hills cow families to demonstrate differences associated with varying levels of performance.

The Friday afternoon program will commence with comments from the hosts about the general ranch operation and remarks from American Hereford Association's Executive Vice-President, H. H. "Hop" Dickenson. Special guest speaker will be Chuck Schroeder, former AJHA President and partner in the Schroeder Cattle Co., Palsade, Neb. One of the highlights of the second afternoon will be the display concerning "Genetic Management with a Purpose," an in-depth look at the Granite Hills breeding program. The leading Granite Hills sires now in service and their progeny as well as information concerning their individual performance data will be the topics of discussion. The program will conclude with the National Showmanship finals and the announcing of the various judging awards.
Persons planning to attend are urged to confirm lodging reservations through the AJHA Junior Department as early as possible.

HEREFORD ASSOCIATIONS STUDYING POSSIBILITY OF BREEDS MERGER

The consolidation idea. There have been no formal negotiations between the two associations at this time.
Neither Board of Directors took votes for or against the idea to consolidate the two existing major beef breed registry organizations and organize a totally new association.
Both associations' Directors authorized immediate and concurrent mail surveys of their separate memberships throughout the United States to obtain breeder comments that may help the AHA and APHA Directors decide if future discussions or negotiations on this subject are to be held.
The associations' memberships are not being asked to vote for or against any specific proposal at this time, but only to consider the advantages and disadvantages of the concept of a consolidation of the two associations into a brand new association.

Should a consolidation program be agreed upon by the Boards of Directors of the two associations at some future date, the by-laws of each association require the memberships to vote their approval or disapproval of any specific consolidation proposal at their separate annual meetings or at special membership meetings called for consideration of this matter.

Member-breeders of the AHA and APHA are being asked to return their mail-surveys to their respective association offices as soon as possible after studying the contents of the letters being mailed to them.

Gulf Coast Hereford Assn. Elects Officers

On the night of Wednesday, April 18, 1977, the Gulf Coast Hereford Association had a steak dinner at the K & G Steak House in Brenham for its members, their families and guests, and immediately following the dinner held its annual general membership business meeting. The officers made their reports of the activities of the Association during the past year, and pointed out what is still to be done when certain governmental agencies are heard from.

New directors were elected for three year terms to succeed outgoing directors L. A. "Bill" Davis of Houston and Industry, Otto Schatz, Jr., of Rosenberg and Leon Noack of Rockdale. The three new directors are Roy H. Herrmann of Caldwell, Jack D. Quinn of Houston and Burton and Noel B. Yarling of Rosenberg. Ed Duckworth of Brenham had requested that he be relieved of his duties as a director, so Albert Hartstack, Jr., of Washington was appointed to fill the one year remaining of the term.

The holdover directors are James W. Clift of Richmond, Dick Britten of Bryan, John M. Yarling of Schulerburg, M. F. French of Arcadia and Giddings and J. G. Frank of Giddings. In the reorganizational meeting James W. Clift was elected president. John M. Yarling was re-elected vice-president, and B. C. Gatewood of Houston and Noel B. Yarling of Rosenberg were re-appointed secretary and treasurer respectively. John M. Yarling and Jack Quinn were appointed co-chairman to work out the details of the summer tour to be held in the Burton-Brenham-Industry area on Saturday, June 4, 1977.

Douthitt Ranch Co. Buys 3/4 Interest In Cooke Co. Bull

Galveston, Texas — Cooke County College recently sold three-fourths interest for $1,500 in a Feb. 10, 1976 Hereford bull, CCC Advance 7609, to A. C. Douthitt Ranch Co., Henrietta, Texas. Douthitt Ranch Co., a long-time commercial Hereford operation, is now adding a registered Hereford herd and has been one of the major buyers in recent registered Hereford sales, including purchase of the top selling cow and others in the recent Weldon Edwards sale at Clyde.

CCC Advance 7609 had an adjusted 365-day weight of 784 pounds with a minimum of creep feed and a weaning ratio of 128.2 percent in the college herd. His adjusted 365-day weight was 1,281 pounds and index 119.7. His actual 365-day weight was 1,205 pounds. The bull gained 500 pounds in 140-day of official gain test for an ADG of 3.6 pounds at the college's test center.

This bull was one of the first sales from the college's registered Hereford herd started in the fall of 1975 with purchase of 30 foundation cows from the Teepees Ridge Ranch at Davis, Okla.

About half of the cows were bred to TPR Mischief D4, a son of Winrock D4, and the others to RH Advance C808, sire of this bull. The C808 bull was sired by RH Advance A113. Teepees Ridge Ranch owners Dr. and Mrs. David Eggenberg had bought the C808 bull in the 1974 Cooper-Holden sale, where he was the top performing yearling and one of the top selling bulls of that sale.

Grand dam of the CCC Advance 7609 bull was PL Highland Lass 718, one of the top producing cows in the Cooke County herd. She has been a consistent performer, whose progeny includes TPR Jet Maid 122, dam of this bull and top performing heifer calf in the herd in 1971; the top performing heifer calf in the Cooke County herd in 1976 and it's top performing bull calf this year.

Douthitt Ranch Co. will have possession of CCC Advance 7609 from Dec. 15 to Sept. 15 each year, and the college from Sept. 15 to Dec. 15. He will be used both for natural and artificial service. The college still has six half-brothers to this bull and some half-sisters to him for sale. CCC Advance 7609 semen will also be available. Interested persons may contact T. J. Davidson, Agriculture Department, Cooke County College, P. O. Box 815, Galveston, Texas 77550, or phone 817/668-7731.

According to reports from South America, Mother Nature has hit the Texas coast with a major storm.

Major Scholarship Increase Announced At Regular Meeting

(CONT. FROM PAGE 1) that the organization was increasing the number of annually presented $4,000 scholarships from 30 to 50. "With this 66 percent increase in our four-year program, we will have 18 students in colleges and universities this fall," Freeman explained. These students represent a $820,000 commitment by the Livestock Show and Rodeo.

Addressing the Show's annual membership meeting in the Astorhall, Freeman said "we are pleased to be able to announce a significant increase in the program for the second straight year. This expansion was made possible by the Show's continued success which is a direct reflection of the tremendous amount of public support which it receives."

The Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo has long been recognized for its fine agricultural scholarship program. René Robert Cavaller de La Salle led an expedition across the Atlantic in 1684 to colonize New Orleans. Unfortunately his campaign failed. He missed New Orleans and landed in Texas. His faulty sense of direction was not overlooked by his followers who eventually killed him.

The right campaign in the wrong place can kill you.

Many a great campaign has died because it didn't get to the right place or the right people. When you advertise with BPA-audited (Business Publication Audit of Circulation, Inc.) magazines you know exactly whom you're reaching. ## Scores Charolais Bull Scores Top Record

Sir Admiral, full-French Charolais son of Admiral FA18, owned by Buddy Jones, recently completed a 143 day feed test at the American Beef Cattle Evaluation Center at Ringling, Okla.
The test was supervised by Hollis Dickey and Clyde Reed both of whom are nationally known livestock specialists, and using the new electric platform which is the most modern and accurate of all tests.

Sir Admiral had a 205 day weaning weight of 770 lbs. off grass only and entered the test at eight months-21 days of age at 850 lbs. His yearling weight was 1380. The first 56 days he averaged 5.71 and completed the test weighing 1450 lbs. for an average daily gain of 4.88 under extreme winter conditions. More important, his feed conversion of 6.38 is believed to be the Charolais record. With such computerized equipment as the pinpointor, conversion figures are not disputable because you know exactly what each animal eats every 24 hours.

Sir Admiral's sire is one of the few A grade bulls still alive and in service.
Admiral FA18 is currently servicing the Jones herd in Amarillo, Texas, and semen is available.

Texas Sixth in Nation In Poultry Industry

Cash receipts from poultry and eggs in Texas totaled $376.2 million last year, up $22 million from 1975. That was good enough to rank the state sixth in the U.S. poultry industry, says a poultry marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.
Texas receipts accounted for 6.38 percent of the national total of more than $7 billion in 1976. On a commodity basis, Texas was sixth in turkey production, ninth in egg production and seventh in broiler production. Per capita egg consumption continued to decline last year while broiler and turkey consumption was up, the largest on record.

When wild meat is too tough or strong-tasting, marinate it. A marinade can be made from equal parts of dry wine and vinegar, plus onion and spices.
Use a glass jar and soak the meat for up to twenty-four hours in the refrigerator.
